PEN PICTURES

TONY BURNS. Made his debut in goal this season. Signed from South African team Durban City but born in Kent.

PADDY MULLIGAN. Eire international fullback from Dublin. Joined club in September 1972 from Chelsea for £75,000.

JIM CANNON. A Glaswegian and Scottish youth international. A useful central defender and a professional for four seasons.

JEFFREY JOHNSON. A strong midfield player signed from Manchester City just over a year ago after a period on loan. A Welsh under-23 international.

DEREK JEFFRIES. Another player who followed Malcolm Allison from Manchester City. A midfield man considered to be well worth his £100,000 fee.

IAN EVANS. A 6ft 3in midfield man signed in September along with Terry Venables from Queen's Park Rangers, for whom he made four appearances last season.

NICK CHATTERTON. Son of Palace groundsman Len Chatterton. Plays midfield and made 6 appearances last season.

ALAN WHITTLE. An expensive signing from Everton in December, 1972. Striker or midfield player.

MICK HILL. The former Ipswich striker who joined Crystal Palace at Christmas, 1973. Made 12 appearances last season.

DAVID SWINDLEHURST. A Londoner who joined Palace as a schoolboy in 1970. Three England youth caps as a striker and now establishing himself in the League side.

PETER TAYLOR. Rochford-born and signed from Southend for £100,000 in October, 1973. Highly rated as a skilful forward with terrific enthusiasm.

CRYSTAL PALACE

As the name suggests, Palace started off at the old venue of the F.A. Cup Final, the Crystal Palace exhibition ground. That was seventy years ago, and they stayed there for ten years and had two other grounds before moving to their present home at Selhurst Park.

From being members of the old Southern League, they joined the Third Division when it was formed in 1920 and were the first champions, gaining promotion to the Second Division.

They stayed there for only four seasons and by 1958 had the unlucky distinction of being one of the founder members of the Fourth Division. Promotion came in 1961 and the following year they created a record for transfers between English clubs by selling Johnny Byrne to West Ham for £65,000.

Division Two was reached again in 1964 after a space of 40 years and in 1964–5 they had their best-ever run in the F.A. Cup when they reached the quarter finals and were beaten by the eventual winners, Leeds United.

A great run-in from February in 1968–9, when they went 16 games without defeat, put them in the First Division for the first time and they heralded their new status with new stands, new terracing and improved supporters' club facilities. Twice that season they broke the ground record, first with 48,610 for the opening match against Manchester United and then with 49,498 against Chelsea on Christmas Day. However, they avoided relegation by only one point.

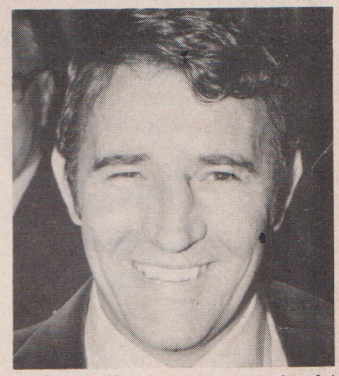
This precarious existence continued until the drop came in 1972–3 and they went straight down last season to the Third along with North End and Swindon Town.

They have never been far down the table this season and today's game could decide which of us will stay in the promotion race.

During the early part of 1971–72 Palace were involved in some £500,000 worth of deals in players. Of this £290,000 was received in transfers and £212,000 paid out and their present "stable" includes Terry Venables and Alan Whittle.

Since the war, Palace have not won at Preston. We encountered them on five occasions from 1964–5 to 1968–9 and in those home fixtures we beat them 1–0, 2–0 and 1–0 and had two no-score draws and when contact was resumed last season the teams drew 1–1 at Deepdale and Palace won at Selhurst Park 2–0. Our away fixture with them in September resulted in a 0–1 defeat.

MANAGER



One of the most colourful managers in football, Malcolm Allison has known many ups and downs. He became manager of Bath City in 1962 and established a reputation as one of the leading coaches in the modern game.

After a spell as manager of Plymouth Argyle, he joined Joe Mercer at Manchester City and started on a successful partnership which saw the European Cup Winners' Cup, the League Championship, F.A. Cup, the League Cup and the Second Division Championship go to Maine Road.

When Joe Mercer moved to Coventry City, Allison took over as manager but not long afterwards, at the end of March, 1973, he joined Palace as team manager.

Twice he has seen his side relegated and now he hopes they are on the way back.

KEEP OFF

Please do not damage the advertisements facing the pitch or obscure them, and KEEP OFF THE GRASS. The playing area must be kept clear of spectators. Needless damage is done when supporters go on to it. THIS MUST CEASE, otherwise well-behaved youngsters as well as offenders may be penalised. You can cheer from the terraces.

RECORD REQUESTS

Supporters wishing to have a record played in the pre-match or half-time entertainment spots over the public address system should send their requests to the Secretary, Deepdale, Preston, marking their envelope in the bottom left hand corner "D.J."

CHARLT

Two successive away defeats at this stage of the season is not the way to win promotion but it is not through lack of effort on the part of the players that the results were not better.

In the match at Walsall we gave probably our worst display of the season. It was general throughout the team and I do not exclude myself from the criticism. It was one of those games which went wrong all through, nothing would go together and we got what we deserved. Even so, we had chances which could have saved the match.

Nevertheless, we are still in a challenging position in the table and the players are determined to keep us there. Every match is likely to be a difficult one from now on, particularly as some of our opponents will be desperate to save themselves from relegation.

The players are not satisfied with their recent performances and we have been working hard all week to put things right. They will have to live with terrific pressure from now to the end of the season and every chance will have to be taken. The lads want to get promotion and know they can do it and if we all pull together and with the inspiration our supporters have given us all season I am sure we will get there.

Make no mistake about it, the lads will put in maximum efforts. In Football League clubs everywhere the players are conscious that there will be pruning of staffs at the end of the season and this ensures that everyone will be trying up to the last match. For us there is another incentive and we count ourselves fortunate to be able to retain interest right to the end of the programme.

This afternoon we face up to Crystal Palace in a match which is very important to both clubs. We had a very tight game at Selhurst Park and today's match should be no exception.

Palace have a lot of very skilful players and they will be keen to win and enhance their chances of getting back into the Second Division at the first attempt.

They have one of the best grounds in the League and a following which deserves better than Third Division football. We expect them to give us a difficult match and the result could decide who stays in the running.

In mid-week our youth team went to Old Trafford and held Manchester United to a goalless draw in the semi-final of the Lancashire Youth Cup, despite losing Mick Baxter after only 15 minutes' play.

Mick spoke out of turn to the referee and his error has been brought home to him. I don't think he will do it again.

After his departure it was largely a question of survival. Our lads did a tremendous job in defence and if the second leg at Deepdale on Tuesday night is as interesting and competitive then we are in for a great match.

OUR DIVISION

As Charlton Athletic lost their midweek match at Port Vale, Blackburn Rovers breathed again, happy in the knowledge that they remained at the top of the Division – till today at least.

This afternoon, Rovers are engaged at Southend and the Londoners are not so far away at Brighton. Charlton's defeat, incidentally, did not do Port Vale any harm, lifting the Potteries club above Swindon into seventh position, only two points behind North End.

Even Blackburn, at the top for most of the season, have suffered seven defeats so far, and have never been able to shake off any of their challengers.

Last season 61 points took the club lying third in the table, York City, up into the Second Division, but it is becoming clear that this time fewer points will be required.

Obviously Easter, when most clubs have three games in four or five days, will provide some of the answers. North End have no match on Good Friday but travel to Port Vale on the Saturday and to Chesterfield on Easter Monday before entertaining Peterborough United on the Tuesday.

The Chesterfield fixture would have been played, of course, but for the bad weather which interfered with the re-arrangement.

Before Easter, however, North End have to play their crucial match at Plymouth, where Argyle have dropped only seven points so far this season.

North End have also got to visit Bournemouth, Chesterfield, Grimsby and Colchester United and hope to end with a grandstand finish in Cup Final week at Charlton. In 1970–1 North End went to Fulham, then top of the League, at the end of the season and beat the London club to gain the championship.

North End have got to get a lot of good results before the end of April to give history a chance of repeating itself.

In the relegation zone, Huddersfield, despite a good win in mid week, are in bad trouble and the only question seems to be which other three clubs accompany them. There are about seven candidates and, oddly enough, North End have still to take on five of them – Chesterfield, Aldershot, Grimsby, Brighton and Bournemouth.

SNAP SHOTS

Not for the first time since its inception in 1960–61, the Football League Cup final was fought out by clubs outside the First Division and Aston Villa's feat in getting to the final and eventually winning the trophy demonstrates that this is a rich prize which is not necessarily the prerogative of the top clubs.

One club which gained some reflected glory from the competition was little Hartlepools United, one of the North East's outposts of English soccer.

Apart from the fact that in the fourth round they were beaten by Villa only after a replay, their new club flag was amongst those of other clubs who reached the last 32 to fly above the Wembley Stadium on the final day.

The club's supporters' organisation ran a competition for a design for a new flag and the winning design was the work of one of their staunch supporters.

Villa and Norwich fans all over the world were able to listen in to the final thanks to the BBC's Arabic and World services which it is claimed serve some 30 million soccer fans.

There can be no doubt that North End need a really sustained effort to finish in the top three this season and compared with their championship efforts of 1970–71 they are way behind. Their 38 points from 33 games up to date compares with 45 from the same number of matches four seasons ago, when they finished with a total of 61 points.

Mr. JAMES METCALFE

The club has heard with regret of the death of Mr. James Metcalfe, who had such a long connection with North End.

He came here as a player from South Shields in 1926–7 and later became assistant trainer under the late Will Scott.

After a spell at Leicester, he returned to Deepdale in 1945 and was team manager for five years. He went back to Leicester as head trainer but the following year was appointed chief scout at Deepdale, a position which he held until 1968.
